

3M Scotch Brite Botanical Disinfecting Wipes Walmart $1.62

The label has a green emblem that says Clean Well with a green leaf, plus another orange leaf with the word lemongrass.

It states it will kill cold and flu viruses

When I got it home and got out the old magnifying glass it says it contains 5% thymol and 98% other ingredients, NOT LISTED.

I first looked up thymol and here is what I found. Thymol is a phenolic compound derived from thyme oil, ajowan seeds and horsemint. Sounds good but keep reading.

Ajowan is the small seed-like fruit similar to that of the bishop's weed (Ammi majus) plant, egg-shaped and grayish in color. The plant has a similarity to parsley. Because of their seed-like appearance, the fruit pods are sometimes called ajwain seeds or mistakenly as Ammi majus seeds. Still good read on.

Raw ajwain smells almost exactly like thyme because it also contains thymol, but is more aromatic and less subtle in taste, as well as slightly bitter and pungent.

It tastes like thyme or caraway, only stronger. Even a small amount of raw ajwain will completely dominate the flavor of a dish.

From the EPA -- Thymol is an active ingredient in pesticide products registered for use as animal repellents, fungicides/fungistats, medical disinfectants, tuberculocides, and virucides. Thymol also has many non-pesticidal uses, including use in perfumes, food flavorings, mouthwashes, pharmaceutical preparations and cosmetics.

Then I went to the Scotch Brite site but nothing was available I emailed them wonder if they will respond.

Not sure they have to tell you what is in cleaning products.

It says you can use them on children's toys. And . . . NOT to flush . . . so either they will clog the plumbing or are harmful to the water supply. Makes you WONDER.

NEVER heard a word from Scotch Brite. Humm I tossed the container in the trash and will never buy again. You know me, they won't tell me what's in it I won't spend my hard earned money on it.

you to make believe you are something you are

NOT.
